We are developing a fully open source app for all, with contribution from all.

Summary

Our project aims to enhance accessibility and inclusivity in Kadıköy through the development and integration of an app module within the existing Digital Kadıköy application. By leveraging citizen science methods and engaging the community, we strive to address the challenges faced by individuals with restricted mobility. The app module enables physically limited individuals to report inaccessible pavements and roads, contributing to the improvement of the physical environment's accessibility. Our project also focuses on raising awareness about accessibility issues and promoting knowledge exchange through awareness campaigns, workshops, and training programs. By providing capacity-building opportunities, we aim to sustain long-term engagement from citizen scientists and stakeholders, ensuring the project's continued success and impact.
